“In times of war or uncertainty there is a special breed of warrior ready to answer our Nation’s call. A common man with uncommon desire to succeed. Forged by adversity, he stands alongside America’s finest special operations forces to serve his country, the American people, and protect their way of life. I am that man.” - The Navy SEAL Ethos

OUR MISSION:

The mission of the Navy SEAL Foundation is to provide immediate and ongoing support and assistance to the Naval Special Warfare community and their families.

LEADERSHIP MESSAGE

ROBIN R. KING
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, NAVY SEAL FOUNDATION

Commitment. Responsiveness. Integrity. Strength. Honor. These are the core values the Navy SEAL Foundation strives to attain every day because of the sacrifice the families of our U.S. Navy SEALs make for this country. Each of these highest of standards becomes reality through our resolute actions and your steadfast support.

The Global War on Terrorism rages on and our nation's fiercest warriors are at the forefront of protecting our freedom. Since 9/11, 89 of our Naval Special Warfare (NSW) families have made the greatest sacrifice. We were immediately there for the families and continue to grow and refine our programs that provide a continuum of care during the many stages of challenge after tragedy.

The Foundation exists because of critical support by generous Americans like you. Together, we invest in programs to help NSW children overcome adversity, learn leadership, set goals, and gain strength. We continue to fund NSW resiliency programs, educating and equipping our families for the stresses of multiple deployments. Our educational programs continue to expand for active duty and their families.

The Navy SEAL Foundation is also committed to accountability and transparency. Since 2011, the Foundation has maintained a four out of four-star rating from Charity Navigator, a top watchdog of charities. We take seriously our fiscal responsibilities, just as we do our mission to provide critical programs and support to the NSW community and their families.

Just as our U.S. Navy SEALs will continue to take the fight to enemies across the globe, the Navy SEAL Foundation will continue to support these warriors and their families whenever and wherever they need us. The trust of not only the NSW community, but also our donors is of utmost importance. We thank all of you for this stalwart trust and support.

With warm regards and respect,

LEADERSHIP MESSAGE

REAR ADMIRAL (RET.) GARRY J. BONELLI, USN
CHAIRMAN, NAVY SEAL FOUNDATION

Resilient warriors and resilient warrior families are important parts of the future of Naval Special Warfare (NSW). The Navy SEAL Foundation stands shoulder-to-shoulder with our teammates to help ensure our community not only endures, but thrives following the heroic sacrifices of so many after nearly 13 years in the battlespace and on the homefront.

2013 was a strong year and paves the way for even greater opportunities of growth and development in 2014 at the Foundation as we foster more programs to enhance the daily lives of our warriors, their spouses and children, and our surviving families. The year ahead also marks a new start for an old frogman. In March, I relieved retired Vice Admiral Bert Calland as the Chairman of the Board of Directors of our Foundation. Bert provided bold leadership and prudent oversight at the helm of our Foundation since 2011, and I thank him for his steadfast and continued service.

Looking forward, we will oversee the further enhancement of the Foundation's mission to support even more warriors and their families. In pursuit of our common goals, we will focus our collective efforts on augmenting our programming, making it easier for our special operators and families to access our programs, and bolster services to our families of the fallen, while at the same time, anticipating the ongoing needs of our NSW community.

Today, many of our teammates remain at the forefront of the current land fight, while at the same time, other teammates are making the pivot back to our maritime roots. SEALs, Special Warfare Combatant-craft Crewman (SWCCs), and mission specialists will serve in even more locales around the world. Working with our allies and partners in a complex and dynamic joint, combined, interagency environment, NSW operators will continue to serve as warriors, diplomats and problem-solvers.

Our objectives are to build on our successes, and communicate, communicate, communicate to our warriors, their families, and our donors. With the support of our leadership volunteers and professional staff, we will continue to promote and execute a steadfast mission of immediate and ongoing support to our warriors, their families, and the families of our fallen teammates.

Very respectfully, Garry J. Bonelli

WARRIOR SUPPORT AND FAMILY SERVICES

Ensuring the Naval Special Warfare (NSW) community and their families have the support they need in times of achievement and adversity is of the utmost importance to the Navy SEAL Foundation. Our warrior and family support programs include resiliency and morale-building events, pre and post-deployment retreats, summer camps for children, command all-calls, graduations, family days, holiday celebrations and many more. The Foundation has also partnered with world-class academic institutes and other non-profits to assist NSW combat veterans and their families transition as they exit the military and begin a new chapter of their lives.

A NOTE OF GRATITUDE

“...I am incredibly grateful for the support my family and I received during and after attending the NICoE [National Intrepid Center of Excellence], in Bethesda, MD. While I was there, my wife and I were able to drop our children off at [Navy SEAL Foundation] camp, which both of my boys thoroughly enjoyed. This allowed she and I time to focus on our own relationship, and use the services and tools provided at the NICoE to strengthen our marriage. Furthermore, your support with aftercare tools, such as the alpha-stim, is sincerely appreciated. This particular tool I use nearly every day as a counter to the stress attempting to re-enter my life.”

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

The Navy SEAL Foundation empowers active-duty Naval Special Warfare (NSW) personnel, their spouses, and children by awarding scholarships for continued education - whether for graduate school, bachelor's and associate's degrees, or trade school programs. The Foundation's tuition assistance program also provides active-duty personnel with the resources to offset costs associated with the expense of pursuing higher education. Additionally, we provide funding for standardized college entrance exams for active-duty NSW service members and their dependents.

Quality education is an important factor at all ages, especially in the lives of the youth who will one day lead this great nation. Because of this, the Foundation makes available private school and tutoring grants for the children of NSW families located at arduous duty stations where quality educational choices can be limited.

A NOTE OF GRATITUDE

"I am writing to say 'thank you' to all of the members of the 2013 scholarship recipient selection committee for your generous financial support towards my educational pursuits. In receiving the Navy SEAL Foundation's scholarship, I am able to concentrate on what's important to me; my education; and also, through your generosity and confidence in me as a young man, the funds provided by the Foundation ensure that I can complete my degree on-time and without financial obligations after graduation. My family and I are truly grateful for your contributions and all that you do for active-duty service members, their families, and the Naval Special Warfare community.

TRAGEDY ASSISTANCE

When the ultimate sacrifice is made, the Navy SEAL Foundation stands firmly behind the warrior's family during their time of crisis. Immediate financial assistance is provided to the surviving family to help cover costs associated with the dignified transfer of remains and memorial services, as well as travel expenses for immediate and extended family.

If a service or family member is injured or becomes critically ill, we provide financial and logistical support so they can focus on helping their loved one heal. We also provide support for the warrior who suffers the loss of a parent or sibling. The Foundation helps to create a bridge for critical resources not already provided by the government during these challenging times.

A NOTE OF GRATITUDE

"To all of those of the Navy SEAL Foundation, on behalf of my family, I want to express our sincere gratitude to all of you, the men and women of the Navy SEAL Foundation. Your kind and thoughtful support given in honor of my son are so greatly appreciated. Without your help, the heartfelt encouragement, and generous caring ways, we would have been lost. You made sure we had everything we needed and then some. Your faithful ways and kind deeds, words, and thoughts have been greatly appreciated, more than words can say."

SURVIVOR SUPPORT

No matter the transformative life event, the Navy SEAL Foundation is always there for our Naval Special Warfare community. Surviving families are offered a variety of vital services for children, spouses, and parents of fallen warriors in their time of need and into the future. We provide housing assistance, home maintenance programs, financial and grief counseling, legal assistance, respite childcare, and other critical services.

The Foundation also supports surviving families in the years following their loss through specialized camps, retreats, and bereavement activities.

A NOTE OF GRATITUDE

“Thank you! The support you offer our families is truly remarkable. My son attended Camp Legacy last summer – what an amazing experience for him. You have also gone above and beyond for our squadron families – both current and Gold Star. What you do is so important and has such an important impact on our community... Thank you!”

LEGACY PRESERVATION

The Navy SEAL Foundation takes an active role in ensuring the elite warriors of the Naval Special Warfare community are remembered and recognized for their contributions in the defense of America's freedoms.

The Foundation provides financial support for memorials, bridge dedications, and monuments across the country, captures the stories of our warrior families for future generations, serves as the co-publisher of "The Blast: Journal of Naval Special Warfare," and supports other history enrichment activities.

MEMORIES CAPTURED

"You gotta tell his story man – we can't forget. That's my biggest fear. I want his name to live on. His legacy – forever."

- Brother of a Fallen Naval Special Warfare Operator (SEAL)

"My husband was a hero. In life he was such a giving individual. He was everybody's best friend. He literally would give the shirt off of his back – and did – to people who needed it. And that's what I want to be his legacy and the Navy SEAL Foundation helps me do that. But more importantly, the people who support the Navy SEAL Foundation are honoring and celebrating his legacy."

EFFECTIVE. EFFICIENT. ACCOUNTABLE.

In 2013, for every dollar donated to the Navy SEAL Foundation, 92 cents went directly to programs in support of the Naval Special Warfare (NSW) community or was retained for future mission initiatives, including commitments to surviving families.

We take transparency and efficiency seriously. The Foundation is audited annually by the nation's 5th largest accounting firm which has a history of due diligence and integrity. Our key financials, including IRS filings, are always available on the Foundation's website. It is important for our partners and donors to know how their contributions are used to serve the NSW community and their families, and to have confidence in their choice of the Navy SEAL Foundation.

More than $5.4 million was provided by the Foundation in 2013 for program support activities – a 26% increase over the previous year. And with this responsibility, we have been able to remain among the top tier of benevolent organizations for sound fiscal management, as well as sustaining since 2011 a four out of four-star rating by Charity Navigator, a leading watchdog organization that carefully analyzes the financial efficiency and administrative accountability of nonprofit organizations.

Governed by a volunteer Board of Directors, of whom the majority are former U.S. Navy SEALs, and chaired by retired Rear Admiral (SEAL) Garry J. Bonelli, the Foundation executes its daily mission under the leadership of Robin R. King, Chief Executive Officer.

THE FUTURE

We strive to make to make every year better than the last. 2014 is on pace with no exception for the Navy SEAL Foundation. In addition to continuing our existing programs, which provide assistance and support for warriors and their families, we are focusing on strengthening and enhancing our support for a well-rounded Naval Special Warfare (NSW) family.

Education remains a top priority for the Foundation and we aim to meet the growing consumption of critical knowledge by our warriors and their families. We anticipate more than $1 million in scholarships alone being awarded in 2014. The need for transition support of NSW combat veterans as they exit the military is critical. The Foundation's partnership with world-class academic institutions with this focus in mind will serve as another cornerstone for success on the battlefield and on the home front.

Two years ago, the Foundation launched its signature camp program including camps for surviving children. We also saw significant growth in all of our children's programs. Requests for our camps continue to grow. In addition to planned leadership initiatives for children, retreats for surviving parents of NSW members present opportunities unique for sharing and encouragement that only those who have lost a child can know.

Only with your generous support are we able to sustain our commitment to the NSW community, their families, and the families of the fallen. You allow the Foundation to make critical programs an ongoing reality for our nation's elite warrior community.

THEIR SACRIFICE SHALL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN.

U.S. Navy SEALs, Special Warfare Combatant-Craft Crewmen, and Naval Special Warfare support personnel voluntarily accept the inherent hazards of their profession, with full knowledge of the demands of their chosen way of life. Since September 2001 through December 2013, the Naval Special Warfare community has lost many warriors during training and in combat, at home and on foreign shores. We mourn the loss of each and honor them and their families for their sacrifice.
